Bridges of Buck Gully Hike

Led by Irvine Ranch Conservancy Staff

Buck Gully is a natural, coastal canyon which opened to the public in 2012 with the installation of four bridges to allow for safe public access. These bridges facilitate exploration of the Buck Gully Reserve, and also provide unique vantages and viewing platforms from which to pause and observe the abundant life in and around the stream that splits the gully. Our guided program starts with a short walk from the OASIS Senior Center to the beginning of the Buck Gully trail, which offers a visually dramatic entrance into this special canyon. We will pass over two bridges on the wider and more exposed section of the trail, and then enter the canopied single track portion of the trail as we pass by the third bridge. At the fourth and last bridge, we will pause to enjoy the shaded beauty of this hidden refuge, and then retrace our steps back to the OASIS.

- Walking pace, approximately 3 miles per hour.
- Distance: 5 miles
- Duration: 3.5 hours
- Difficulty: Moderate

25TH ANNIVERSARY

It was in July 1994 that dreams came true for a group of dedicated and hard-working individuals who spearheaded the building of a new Central Library in Newport Beach. Their vision resulted in the building, collections and services that fulfill the mission of the Newport Beach Public Library to be the cultural, educational and informational heart of the City.

Throughout the year, the Central Library will celebrate its extensive past and exciting future by highlighting programs that capture the essence of the library and its place in the community. A special week of activities will be held in July to commemorate the opening of this important community facility. Look for more details on the NBPL website at www.newportbeachlibrary.org

OC Coast Print Series Art Prints by Joe Cladis

MAR 4 - MAY 3, 2019, CENTRAL LIBRARY

The Newport Beach City Arts Commission presents an exhibition of art prints depicting the Orange County Coast by artist Joe Cladis, on display at the Newport Beach Central Library gallery.

As long as he can remember, Joe Cladis has loved to draw. That love led him to Art Center College of Design in Pasadena where he majored in Advertising with a minor in Illustration. Since that time he has spent his life working in the visual arts as a fine artist, graphic designer and illustrator. Having lived in Orange County for over 35 years, Joe has come to love the uniqueness of each of its coastal towns and communities. This passion led him to create the OC Coast print series.
