

Quarantine

Because of the coronavirus,
Everyone is trying to connect and feeling desirous,
I sure am trying, but I don't know about you,
To take advantage of this time, and to learn something new,
Staying healthy is really critical,
Because COVID-19 has become so political,
Most are cooped up in their homes, safe and sound,
Bench watching TV, laying around,
But I've been doing hard work,
So when I'm out of quarantine I'll be able to smirk,
'Cause I've been practicing sports, settling into distance learning,
I'll be so happy once we start returning,
Back to normal, back to our regular lives,
When normality finally arrives,
Once the coronavirus is over, which we must endure,
'Cause after this, we must make sure,
That we're ready, that we're prepared,
Just in case this happens again, and we're not scared,
But whatever happens, this sure is an opportunity,
To come together and be a better community!
