

Superhero Poem #1

Standing tall, dressed in a cape,
Never letting the bad guy escape,
They may fly or have super strength,
They may stretch to incredible length,
Most superheroes have no fear,
They make many people cheer,
Defeating villains, saving lives,
Catching criminals, slapping high-fives,
A superhero defends civilians,
Doing deeds that should earn them millions,
With their movie star smiles and astonishing looks,
They look like they're straight out of the books,
Risking everything, putting others first,
They're definitely the opposite of the worst,
Crowds shower them with "Thank you!"s
After they win, unscathed and without a bruise
Against them, villains win-loss columns, only zeroes

I BELIEVE IN SUPERHEROES

